How to motivate people at work

COURSE LENGTH: 1.0 DAYS

Motivating employees is a key component of any manager, supervisor or business owner's role because motivated staff are more productive, efficient and stable. However creating a motivated workforce can be a challenge.

The PD Training Employee Motivation Training Course teaches you the various methods of staff motivation such as the Herzberg's theory of motivation, the expectancy theory and its 3 primary factors, effective goal setting, understanding different personality types, using individualised motivators and much more. This course teaches participants how to carry out highly successful motivational programs that help employees feel more productive, satisfied and enthusiastic.

This fun, high-energy training course is available in Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne, Canberra, Adelaide and Perth.

MOTIVATING EMPLOYEES TRAINING COURSE OUTLINE

FOREWORD

Employee Motivation is becoming ever more important in the workplace and everyone agrees that a motivated workforce is far more likely to be a successful workforce. The happier and more professional an employee is, the better the results they will deliver for you. Of course, every employer wants to make sure that they have a workforce who will do their best, but this does not simply mean making the job easy for their employees. In fact, part of the problem of motivation is when the job is too easy, employees become complacent.

Therefore a challenge arises for all employers and management in delivering the right balance between a confident, motivated workforce and a workforce which is simply driven to attain stated goals. The perfect balance can be described as a mix between the pleasure of a comfortable working environment and the fear of failure, although in honesty it is more complicated than that equation suggests.

Regardless of how it is characterised, it is important to get the right balance in order to ensure that you have a motivated workforce. This Employee Motivation course is designed to teach participants how to get the best out of a confident, motivated set of employees, and to show them how to motivate that group.
